

You have an eye for small, shiny objects. Are you fast? Perhaps you should try out for your house Quidditch team and become a Seeker! Use this golden snitch to practice and test your abilities.

You've found a golden egg! Your reward will not only keep your feet warm but could even free a house elf if you choose to do so. Donate a sock, free a house elf!

You are a lucky one. Perhaps one day however, you'll find yourself needing a bit more luck. That's where this potion comes in. This little bottle of potion named Felix Felicis, also known as "Liquid Luck," may just come in handy.

Like finding things in hidden places, do you? You'll find this map useful when exploring around Hogwarts castle. Just remember the magic words to reveal it, "I solemnly swear that I am up to no good," and the words to hide its contents when you are done. "Mischief managed."
